

Bringing together animal welfare professionals.

A message from your host Mary Bart Houston:

PetPoint Community (PPC) has over 5,000 members and is quickly becoming one of the most useful sites for animal welfare professionals. PPC provides an online hub for shelters to communicate with one another and find ways to improve the lives of animals everywhere.

Don't miss out, get involved today!

Joining is easy. Simply log into your PetPoint account and click on the "community site" link on the top right side. PPC can be used to improve communications among shelter staff, volunteers and the entire PPC network.

You can:

- Create specific groups for your volunteers
- Schedule events and track feedback
- Post or answer questions in the group blog
- Coordinate transfers between partner organizations
- Start a topic in one of the industry-specific forums and get feedback and knowledge from across the country
- Share your successes or challenges by posting a community-wide blog
- Post pictures, videos, links or documents to a group or the entire PPC network
